Review by Sankar. Anushka is still engaged to Vivek, but she is waiting for her one true love Bharath and in Bharath's absence, she secretly woos Shyam. With Mani Sharma Mani Sharma is the director of the upcoming film Billa, which is scheduled to be released on 24 November 2009. Billa is a love story involving Anushka Shetty and Prabhas where Anushka has been romantically linked with her childhood friend Vivek for years, but now she is getting to know another guy called Bharath! In the background, however, there are a few unfortunate setbacks that leave Anushka in a bad mood, but now she is getting her chance at a new life with Prabhas. I am quite impressed with the music and the background score of the film, which is composed by Mani Sharma! Billa is an excellent melodious romantic song which is sung by Prabhas and Anushka. It's the official Telugu remake of the superhit Tamil film Jil Jil Jale and I am sure it's not going to disappoint the audience. Mani Sharma Mani Sharma was born in Mumbai, in the year 1967, to a musical family. His father Ganesh Sharma was a music director and he introduced Mani to music at a very young age. Kalyanji Anandji, who were the music directors of the initial movies of Mani Sharma such as Madhuri, Roop Kamal,

At a time when no one trusts the Hindi film industry to be a progressive force in Indian cinema (which is "always" just about to bring down the government), the fact that a man who is not welcome in most other other great film industries of India, has made a movie that is as genuinely human and good as any of them, is, I daresay, as an outlier. BILLA, which also happens to be the name of a neighbourhood in New Delhi, to reiterate the matter, is a film that does not seek to be the most political or the most brutal, but just the least greedy of its kind. It may not be a celebration of women (though it does feature one of the most vital and powerful performances by Vidya Balan in recent memory), and yet is not afraid to be a little dramatic (in a good way) at times (helped by a strong cast that includes Naseeruddin Shah, R. Madhavan, and others). What Mr Basu has done is nothing short of a miracle. Search Result : Bommali from Billa Video Song in Telugu is the popular song from the movie Billa ( Telugu ) 2017.
